Über die Aufnahmeorganisation URI-MENA

URI MENA is a non-profit organization aiming at promoting enduring and daily interfaith cooperation, to ending religiously motivated violence, and to create cultures of peace, justice and healing for the Earth and all living beings. URI MENA is the regional office of the United Religions Initiative in the Middle East & North Africa (MENA). The registered office in Jordan supports URI's affiliate groups/members to contribute to peace-building and environment protection efforts in MENA countries. URI MENA supports and facilitate the work of 53 affiliate groups (called Cooperation Circles or CC's), working on themes related to peace-building and interfaith dialogue in 12 countries in the Middle East and Northern Africa. The organization is engaged in different activities on local, regional and global levels, including peace building, intercultural understanding, strengthening civil society, and environment protection. URI MENA has succeeded in deepening understanding and cooperation among the historic faith communities in the MENA region, as well as empowering youth initiatives to play a vital role in building their societies.
